have indeed created quite 'a record for themselves in their sixty days' sports at Victoria,-a race meeting to be remembered in the annals of British Columbia Turf history as the largest undertaking of the kind ever attempted in any city in the Dominion of Canada. Many "winning cards" in the shape of exceptionally handsome women, smartly attired, may be seen every day upon the lawn and grandstands. And although one may hear "Fawncy 'aving a rice-course without a baw, it's a bloomin' shime!" everybody who is anybody knows that upon "the home-stretch" a bottle of G. H. British Statesmen Gravely Discuss Possible Danger in Situation

LORD ROBERTS IN PESSIMISTIC MOOD

Proposed Resolution Meets With Protest From Editor of Globe

London, June 9.—The Imperial Press conference resumed discussion on Imperial defence this morning, A. J. Balfour presiding. Lord Roberts and Mr. Haldane, secretary for war were present. The grave note was again emphasized in the speeches of the home statesmen. Mr. Balfour in opening, declared that all local defence though it was necessary, was subordinate to imperial defence, and subordinate from the view point of the particular localities themselves, not only from the view point of empire. (Applause.)

In dealing first with the military as-

(Applause.)
In dealing first with the military aspect of the question Mr. Bairour laid down two propositions, first that all forces of oversea states should be under control of those states, and second that they should be organized on a common basis.

common basis.

Respecting the navy, he did not regard as uscless any local attempt at naval defence, but anything in the nature of coastal protection should be rigidly subordinate to the fleet in action (hear, hear.) The fate of the empire would be dependent upon fleet superfority, and that superfority must be shown in home waters. If there was to be an Armageddon it would take place in the German ocean, the English channel or perhaps the Mediterranean.

Engish channel or perhaps the Mediterranean.

Mr. Balfour, continuing, said: "Anybody who reads the signs of the times will, I think, agree with the weighty words of Lord Rosebery and Sir Edward-Greg, and will recognize that no man can now speak of imperial defence without some note of anxiety, not panic. There was no question of panic, but we have to look around at the gathering of forces and armaments of possible foes, strategic import and possible combinations, and every one will recognize that in the language of the secretary for foreign affairs. That language is unusual in the mouths of foreign secretaries, but does not go beyond the necessities of the situation."

the situation."

Mr. Balfour next humorously remarked that the British nation was fond of saying about itself that it is not the nation it is said to be. In this regard, however, he looked forward, not perhaps without anxiety, but with high and cheerful courage towards dangers which might menace the empire, but he urged that responsibility lay upon all. (Applause.)

the empire, but he urged that responsibility lay upon all. (Applause.)

A Canadian View.

J. S. Brierly, of Montreal, followed. He assured the conference that Canadian was willing to take her share of imperial defence consistent with the maintenance of her autonomy. These two elements were not inconsistent. He expressed pleasure at the full recognition by home statesmen that the overseas states must be allowed full control of their own affairs. It was asked yesterday if the admiralty ordered Canadian warships to South America and the Canadian government refused to send them, what would happen. Well, they would not go, but it was a suppositious question. He could not imagine that if the needs of the empire demanded it the ships would not be sent. (Applause.) Mr. Brierly then combatted the idea that Canada had been lacking in imperial defence.

Secretary Haldane addressed himself particularly to the necessity of tomogeneity of the military forces of he empire, with due regard to local teed and local control. He said that he next 20 years would be critical tears in the listory of the empire.

Lord Roberts Uneasy.

Lord Roberts Uneasy.

Lord Roberts thought that the next 20 months, not years, would be an important time for the empire, and the situation demanded the closest attention of all patriotic men. The question is, he said, whether we had the tion is, he said, whether we had the spirit and foresight to maintain the empire. The growth of the oversea states in wealth made them objects of envy to other nations, and we must be prepared for common comfort and common sacrifice. He desired to correct one idea which prevailed in the overseas dominions, namely, that preparation for defence meant the inculcation of a spirit of militarism. His long soldier's life had made him a man of peace, but the discipline which made a man a competent defender of his country, equipped him the best for all duties.

Mr. Fiuk moved, and Mr. Cohen seconded a resolution that it is essential that in each of the self-governing dominions systematic and universal that in each of the self-governing dominions systematic and universal training of the male population should be stremuously advocated.

John St. Strachey, of the London Spectator and L. C. M. Amey, of the London Times, proposed an amendment to include Great Britain.

The scope of the resolution produced a warm protest from Mr. Macdonald, editor of the Toronto Globe, who said it was a subject with which the conference had nothing to do. Let each dominion decide which was best for it. For Canadians to advocate what was urged upon them would hurtimperial interests in Canada (hear, hear.) Canada need not say it was loyal. Mr. Macdonald also inited that some British journalists might refrain from scares. In concluding and speaking for himself and others Canadians, he begged that they would not be asked to vote for the resolution.

Mr. Balfour asked that the resolution be withdrawn, which was done with the unanimous assent of the conference. After further discussion adjournment was taken.

BRITAIN INVITED

Participation in Naval Review at San Francisco Next October Is Probable

London, June 9.—A formai invitation from America to Great Britain to participate in the naval review to be held in San Francisco next October to celebrate the re-building of the city after the carthquake of April 1906, has been presented by Ambassador Reid. The question is one for consideration by the cabinet, and it will probably be several days before an answer is received.

There is, however, much likelihood of acceptance, as there is a movement in England at the present time in favor of showing the flag, particularly in the Pacific.

C. C. Moore of San Francisco, who is at present in London to arrange these matters, has formed a small committee of Californians to asist him. This committe will go to all the capitals of Europe and present similar invitations.

DINGLEY RATES ARE RESTORED

Senate Majority Sticks to Its Idea of Proper Tariff

Revision

Washington, June 9.—The woolen schedule was still under consideration in the senate when at 5:30 o'clock the usual recess for dinner was taken. Several votes were obtained during the day, and the usual number of paragraphs were passed upon. Among these was the paragraph on top waste, on which the committee amendment increased the house rate on wool top waste and other wastes from 20 cents per pound to 30 cents per pound, which on a division of the senate was adopted by a vote of 40 to 30. This was the finance committee change, and the committee scored its usual majority on this as on all other votes of the day. A vote was also obtained upon the committee amendment increasing the duty on shoddy from 20 to 25 cents a pound and that on top waste from 18 to 20 cents per pound, the committee prevailing in both cases.

Speeches were made during the day by Senators Warren and La Follette.

Speeches were made during the day by Senators Warren and La Follette, the former arguing against any increase, while the latter contended, as on previous occasions, for a general reduction. The two senators engaged in a sharp controversy, during which Mr. La Follette said that those in the senate who believed with him had increased from nothing to a degen.

senate who believed with him had increased from nothing to a dozen. Probably the most interesting development of the day was a declaration by Senator Dolliver that a "rag trust" exists. The lowa senator declared such to be the case, but he was contradicted by Mr. Warren, who declared that if such a trust should exist, he would know about it, and he added that he had no knowledge of it. At the beginning of the day's session a letter was read from Governor Durbin, of Indiana, advising prompt action on the tariff bill.

BAD WRECK AT SAULT

Gate of Canadian Lock Gives Way and Damage Is Done Among Steamboats

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. June 9.—The Canadian locks were wrecked this afternoon. The steamer Assimbloa of the C. P. R. line, and a freighter of the Gilchrist line were locking up when suddenly and without warning one of the leaves of the upper gates gave way and the water from the higher level is pouring through the canal at a terrific pace. Efforts to lower the moveable dam from above the upper gates are being made.

The steamer Empire City was hit by the Assimbola as she was swept out of the lock and has a big hole in her bow. She reached the American side and is tied up at the government pler, where she is slowly sinking. Later the steamer Walke was such at the lower entrance of the comment pler that the was due to the Walker hitting the lower gate as she entered life lock from above. President Taft Makes Proposal to Tax Corporation Earnings

WOULD TAKE PLACE OF INCOME TAX

Both Factions of Republicans in Senate Opposed to Idea

Washington. June 9.—The senate was canvassed today to determine what would be the fate of a proposition to place a tax upon net earnings of corporations as a substitute for an income tax, and it was developed that there is an overwhelming sentiment in opposition to such plan. Practically all of those who opposed the income tax idea are against the corporation tax, and the supporters of the income tax refuse absolutely to be sidetracked from the principle for which they are contending.

After a conference at the White House yesterday between President Taft and Senator Aldrich, it was stated that the finance committee would consent to placing a two per cent tax upon the net earnings of corporations if the supporters of the income tax amendment would accept it and withdraw their proposition. This suggestion, it is declared, came from President Taft, and was designed to prevent a split in the Republic party over the income tax feature.

Mr. Aldrich communicated the plan to Senators Cummins and Borah, who are the leaders of the Progressive Republicans, who have favored the Cummins income tax amendment. These senators consulted with their colleagues, and as a result the plan was repudiated by them. Mr. Aldrich consulted with Republican leaders who are opposed to the income tax idea, and he had no better success with that faction than with the progressives.

that faction than with the projects sives.

By an order of the senate the income tax proposition will come up to-morrow for a vote, but in view of the unsettled condition a motion will be made to postpone action, and the incleations are that practically all of the Republicans will support the postponement.

It is expected that Senator Balley

During the atternion some doubt was expressed in the informal discussion of the corporation tax proposition as to whether President Taft favored a tax on dividends or a tax on the net earnings of corporations over $100,000. Both plans were discussed.

Whichever idea is favored at the White House it is said no support could be found among the senators who advocate the adoption of the amendment providing for a tax on incomes.

MURDERER ON

Halfbreed Desperado Wanted Across Border Brought by Captor From the North

On his way to stand his trial for the murder, on July 25th last year, at Republic, Wash., of Rawl Siebert, whom he shot down in cold blood because he believed that Siebert was responsible for his arrest on a minor charge. Charles Phillips, alias Benton, half breed desperado and a man with a black record, arrived in the city yesterday from Quesnel. In charge of Provincial Constable Anderson, who captured the criminal at the point of the gun, Phillips, heavily manacled, arrived on the Princess Charlotte. As he decided to waive extradition proceedings and consented to return to the other side of the boundary with Sheriff J. W. McCool and Deputy Sheriff W. J. Hall, of Ferry county, Wash, within the limits of which the murder of Siebert was committed, Phillips was not taken off the boat. He remained under the charge of Constable Anderson until the boat left the wharf, when the officers of the law from the other side assumed control.

Superintendent of Provincial Police Hussey visited Phillips on board the Princess Charlotte. The prisoner apparently had not made up his mind whether he would fight extradition, proceedings or not, but as he realized that even if the officers from Republic did not possess the authority to force him to return the immigration authorities could order his deportation to the other side he readily consented to return of his own accord.

The prisoner, one of the most desirable prisoner.

The prisoner, one of the most desperate characters with whom the provincial authorities have had to deal in many years, gave Constable Anderson no trouble on the four days' tripfrom Quesnel. Captor and prisoner left Quesnel last Saturday. The first portion of the trip was made by stage the train being taken at Ashcroft. Constable Anderson knowing the treacherous nature of the man under his charge took no chance, but kept Phillips heavily chained with hand-cuffs and leg irons, and during the trip the constable had little or no sleep. Sheriff McColl and Deputy Sheriff Hall have been in the city for the past three days awaiting the arrival of Anderson with his prisoner.

That the board of license commissioners is determined that the liquor regulations shall be lived up to by license holders in every respect was the dictum of Mayor Hall at yesterday's meeting of the board, the regular quarterly session. The mayor, who is chairman of the board, issued his warning after a report was submitted by License Inspector Handley, setting forth the fact that notices had been recently issued to all license holders advising them of the necessity of following out the regulations to the letter. The mayor's remarks were also occasioned by the fact that the applicant for a transfer of license, that of the Mecca Bar, failed to put in an appearance, and no one appeared on his behalf. The regulations state that the parties to the transfer must be present either in person or by representative, and as this provision was not carried out yesterday the transfer was not granted, but the temporary permit under which the new proprietor has neen operating was extended.

Investigations Being Carried Out on This Coast by Dr. W. Bell Dawson

In the past, the coast of British Columbia used to be dependent on United States tide tables for its tidal information. This was anything but satisfactory, because the tides in Puget Sound to the south, and in Alaska, are of quite a different type. It was not therefore possible that the tides in British Columbia waters could be derived with accuracy from these sources.

Since the Tidal and Current Survey has taken the matter in hand, an important improvement has resulted. This survey is under the direction of Dr. W. Bell Dawson, the superintendent of Tidal Surveys, who is at present in the city. He first visited this coast in 1905; and this season the investigations of the tides will be further extended, both on Vancouver Island and northward on the mainland.

The tides necessarily present great complexity, as in the Strait of Georgia the water enters at both ends, both by Inther extended, both on Vancouver Island and northward on the mainland.

The tides necessarily present great complexity, as in the Strait of Georgia the water enters at both ends, both by Fuca Strait and Seymour Narrows, where a large volume rushes through in a short time. It has thus required much careful study of the conditions to obtain satisfactory results. The general plan that the superintendent has adopted is to subdivide the coast waters into several regions, in correspondence with the various types of tide met with, and to establish a principal station in each region to which the tides can be referred with accuracy. These fregions are: 1.—The open Pacific tide, on the west of Vancouver island. 2.—The Strait of Georgia, 3.—The Strait of Fuca intermediate between these, which is represented by Victoria harbor. 4.—The northern coast from the north end of Vancouver island to Port Simpson, All the detail required at different local ports, and in the various passes and narrows, can evidently be brought into relation with this general system, and much more practicable and reliable results can be obtained than by the former method of referring British columbia tides to the distant ports in the Sound or in Alaska.

The Tidal Survey has already obtained a large amount of valuable resorts in the current in the passes and narrows, on which the tide tables published annually are based. But in addition to these it was found that much valuable information had been obtained by other government departments, and during the course of the admiralty surveys. This was accordingly worked up by the Tidal Survey and put into practical shape for publication in the tide tables, where it becomes available to mariners.

The value of information of this character to trade and commerce can hardly be overestimated, not only to the leading steamship lines but also on account of the large amount of twenty the province so largely depend.

GENERAL OTTER

Noted Canadian Soldier Inspecting Garrison Troops Today

Brigadier General W. D. Otter, C. V. O., C. V., chief of the General Staff, and first military officer of the militia staff in Canada, accompanied by his aide de camp, Captain Bruce Hay, arrived in the city last night for the purpose of inspecting the local forces, General Otter is sharing this duty throughout Canada with Inspector General Lake this year and will inspect the west from Port Arthur to the coast.

General Otter in conversation with the Colonist stated that one of the objects of the militia authorities was to increase the Canadian forces year by year. Nothing could be done in this respect this year as the money appropriated was not sufficient, but next year he hoped that two or three new corps would be added, and that the militia strength would gradually keep on increasing. He saw evidences in the western provinces, and in this respect he drew especial attention to Manitoba, that the public were anxious for this increase to take place.

Asked what he thought of the suggestion that the Fifth Regiment should be disbanded, with the exception of one artillery company, and that an infantry regiment should be raised in its stead, he stated that he had heard no talk about the matter in Ottawa. He did not think it would be feasible, as he pointed out that one company of artillery would be insufficient to handle the guns in an efficient manner. There were three companies of artillery engaged on this work in Halifax.

General Otter stated that this present trip was one of an ordinary companies of artillery engaged on this work in Halifax.

General Otter stated that this present trip was one of an ordinary inspection character. He has already inspected the troops at Port Arthur and on his return journey will visit Kamloops, Vernon, Reveistoke, Edmonton, Calgary and other points in the west. Today he inspects the Garrison forces and tomorrow night the Fifth Regiment will be mustered before him at the Drill Hall. General Otter leaves for Vancouver tomorrow night.

Otter leaves for Vancouver tomorrow night.

General Otter is one of the Canadian representatives who will go to England this autumn in connection with the military conference to be held in London for the formation of an Imperial General attaff.

General Otter has had a very active career. He served in the Fenian Raid in 1866, and was in the action at Limeridge, and in the Fenian Raid of 1870. He obtained as a result of this the general service medal with four clasps. In the northwest rebellion of 1885, he commanded the Battleford column and participated in the Relief of Battleford. He was also in the action at Cut Knife creek and he took part in the operations against Big Bear in June and July of 1885. In the Anglo-Boer war General Otter commanded the Canadian forces in the Transvaal and the Orange River colony. He led-his men through the fierce action at Paurédeerg and at the close of the war was awarded the Queen's medal with four clasps.

General Otter has on several occasions commanded the Canadian team at Wimbleton.

ANOTHER SITE IS NECESSARY

School Board Will Take Steps to Secure One in Eastern Portion of City

Recognizing the necessity of securing another school site in the eastern portion of the city, the school board will take early steps to locate a suitable site in order that provision for another additional school accommodation be made before all the available property is taken up and land values in that section of the city become enhanced. At last night's regular monthly meeting of the board, the building and grounds committee was instructed to interview the owners of two parcels of land either of which would prove suitable, and secure terms of sale. At present the city is growing so rapidly that the matter of adequate accommodation is becoming even more pressing than it has been in the past, and with the growth of that section near Oak Bay early provision must be made to provide for the school population in that section. To the same committee also was referred the matter of school repairs. The board has now at its disposal some $3.768 available for this purpose, while the cost of repairs, were all repairs made, would come to a considerably higher figure. Accordingly, it is a matter of attending to those repairs absolutely necessary, and to ascertain just what should be done. The building and attending to those repairs absolutely necessary, and to ascertain just what should be done. The building and grounds committee will report on what repairs are imperative and report to the board, a special meeting of which will be held next Tuesday evening to consider the report, and also to discuss the plans and specifications of the new Moss street school. When these are settled, tenders for the erection of the school will be called for.

MARKET FOR FRUIT

The Manitoba Free Press advocates a removal of the duty on fresh fruit ports paid duty, and the Winnipeg paper feels that there is no good reaamount is inconsiderable, in the aggrepurposes than to make fruit more expensive. It will be observed that the fruits which come in duty free are not produced in the Dominion, and the argument of the Free Press, succinctly stated, is that foreign fruit, not being in competition with Canadian fruit from January to June, is much in the same position during that period as fruit which the country cannot pro-

Our contemporary denies the exist. ence of a combine to keep up the price of fruit in the West, and it says that the fruit-growers of British Columbia and Ontario will make such a combine impossible. It thinks that there for relief when the British Columbia berries get on the market. Missouri berries are expected to play a very important part in determining prices this year, as the crop is said to be very large and in first class condition While it declines to believe in the existence of any combine, the Free Press expects that the prices for fruit in the Prairie provinces will continue high. It believes relief possible in this respect by a reduction of freight rates which it regards as unreasonable and as discriminating against the consumer on the Prairies. The instances of this nature cited do not apply to fruit shipped from this province.

INDIANS' RESERVES.

As it is conceded that the Indian Reserves in British Columbia stand in a different position from those in the other provinces, by what process of reasoning does anyone reach the conclusion that the Dominion government's view of the rights of the province therein is necessarily right and the view of the provincial government necessarily wrong? The province in the claim to cause it to ask the province to waive it. This the province is not willing to do, and asks for a determination of the legal status of the matter. More than this the provincial government would not be justified in doing. If by a turn of the political wheel of fortune a Liberal admiinstration should come into power gree unsurpassed in any part of the at Victoria, we venture to say that the world. Attorney-General, who in that case as things now stand would doubtless be Mr. J. A. Macdonald, would not advise the Lieutenant-Government to abandon the claim to the reversionary to the reversion of the Indian Reserves than the humblest individual in the province. It is the trustee of the people's rights in the premises, and if it should surrender those rights without some satisfactory compensation, which could be justified to the legisla ture, it would be guilty of gross negli-

It is to be understood that the provincial government makes no claim to the reserves as against the Indians. It is not asking that the Indians shall be deprived of anything whatever to which they are entitled. Its claim relates to the land in the reserves after they have ceasd to be used for reserves The province claims that in such an event the land will revert to it, and that if any of it is disposed of and the proceeds are invested for the benefit of the Indians, that money, when there are no longer any Indians for whose benefit it can be used, shall be paid to the province. It may be quite true that such a claim cannot be put forward by ony of the other provinces but this does not alter the case at all.

The trunsactions with the Grand Trunk Pacific showed that the resionary interest is something of real the Miramichi towns knew that any : brought out.

value even now. If the Dominion government would meet the provincial authorities in a reasonable spirit, that s. if they would consent to the rights of the province being defined, there would be no difficulty in the way of dealing with the reserves, at least so far as the province is concerned. It s well known that the Indians hold large tracts of which they are incapable of making any use. The original understanding was that the reerves should be cut down as the Indians decreased numerically. If and when such a reduction in area takes place, the tracts taken out of the reserves will go to the province according to the contention of the provincial Surely no reasonable man will say that the right to such tracts ought to go to the Dominion.

FRANCE NOT DECADENT

David Starr Jordan made a speech he other day in the course of which ne described the French as a decadent Very properly the statement called forth a great protest from certain French people, who thought it unseemly that their nation should be from January to June. It begins its insulted in such a way. The amazing article by saying that last year Winthing about Professor Jordan's remark was that it was made in the presence of green fruits and nuts. It is from this absurd point of view that our neighbors regard others, and it was this spirit of bumptiousness that led Mr. Jordan to make the observation referred to, which doubtless met with the hearty approval of the greater part of the audience to which it was addressed. To style France a decadent nation was an unwarrantable insult to a great neonle It must be conceded that the French people in France are are signs of an effort to control the not numerically increasing as rapidly ds some other peoples, but we fancy, if we could get at the facts, we would find the same thing true of the origina! stock which peopled the United States. But a low birth-rate is not a sign of national decadence. There is a wide difference between a nation that has turned the corner its numerical progress and one that is decadent. A nation is made up of individuals. If it is decadent, the individuals composing it must be de-cadent. The parents of small families are not to be reckoned as decadent when compared with the parents of large families. If a family consists feet upon the boys of the United one child, it does not follow that the child is in any way the inferior of any one of a family of ten children. Hence the low birth rate far from decadent. Her people do not deal with political problems as we do; right. Some of these probably have but they are showing from year to their origin not very far from New year a greater capacity for self-gov-ernment. From a military point of by a little hunting in Africa is brutalview we fancy that French soldiers, rightly led, would maintain their ancient reputation. NEW BRUNSWICK FIRES.

The forest fires reported from New Junction and near Grand Falls. These are widely separated points and neither of them is in the heart of the timbered areas. The fact that Fredericton was filled with smoke and falling cinders suggests nearby fires, and these would not necessarily volve the destruction of much standing timber. The most valuable forests in New Brunswick are on the head waters of the Miramichi, Restigouche, Nepisiquit, Tobique Naashwaak rivers. There are valuable timber lands elsewhere, but the areas are not so large as in the localities mentioned. The reported fires are not near these areas. About 35 years ago New Brunswick was afpearances vast quantities of timber were being destroyed. As a matter of fact the loss was not very great.

The most tremendous forest fire, of in New Brunswick in 1825. It has gone into history as the Great Miram ichi fire. It occurred on October 7, and it seems to have been an event amazing horror. The accounts given of it by eye-witnesses conveyed an impression of a most appalling character. The first the residents of thing was about to happen was when they saw a great black cloud rising in the west and northwest with in-credible rapidity. Lightning flashed from it in a continuous flame. In a short time the blackness of the cloud gave place to redness, and then tall columns of flame shot upward. People sought safety in rivers, and the wild beasts of the forests took refuge beside them. The loss of life was great; the loss of property in addition to the timber was very large for that period in the history of the prov-ince. It is hardly likely that the present fires can become so serious.

The deep forests can hardly be dry enough at this season of the year to permit of a general conflagration.

The Halifax Chronicle is usually well informed as to the intentions of the Dominion government, and it is interesting therefore to read in a recent copy of that paper the follow-in: "The particulars of Canada's new naval programme will, of course, not be definitely settled until after the conference of the Canadian Ministers with the Admiralty experts, but that it will involve the active commencement of an auxiliary Canadian fleet and the organization of a Canadian naval militia is certain. A four or five year programme will probably be laid down with an annual expenditure of probably two or three millions."

This is probably the basis of the telegram of last week, saying that a definite programme had been arranged.

We are told that the members of the Press Conference disapproved of Mr. Haldane's policy of delay in or-ganizing the fighting forces of the United Kingdom. We take leave to doubt the accuracy of the statement. If the colonial newspaper men are undertaking, to express themselves one way or another upon any course which the British government may follow in regard to matters coming peculiarly within the province of the British parliament, they are adopting a course which they have no right to. The members of the conference are not representatives of any themselves. They have no warrant to speak for the people of the over-seas Dominions, and we repeat that we do not believe they have done so. They understand their status too well, they know what is due to the British government too well to think of expressing disapproval of anything which Mr. Haldane as Secretary of War may have done or propose to do so far as the United Kingdom is concerned. cerned.

When Dr. William J. Long ventured o say some things about wild animals, will be remembered that President Roosevelt speedily labelled him a nature fakir, and appointed him to the Ananias Club. The doctor has taken his time at getting back at his critic, and he does so in connection with Mr. Roosevelt's African hunting trip. He calles the trip a "bloody business," and says it is having a brutalizing ef-States. Bishop Perrin returned yesterday from Cumberland. On Sunday last he administered the rite of confirmation at Comox in the morning, and at Cumberland in the evening. On Monday evening the Bishop gave a lecture on early church history in the city hall. Cumberland, after which a scheme for building a parsonage on the lot adjoining the church was started. A committee consisting of the churchwardens, Messrs, Peacey and Aston, and Messrs, Matthews, Nunns and Haggart was appointed, and it was decided to obtain a suitable plan. Three hundred and forty dollars was promised at the meeting and an appeal will at once be made for the parsonage fund.

Land Were Once Cleared

"Vancouver island is simply starying for land." This is the way Secretary McGaffey, of the Vancouver Island Development Lague epitomises the results of his observations made while touring through Courtenay, Cumberland, Ladysmith, Nanalmo, Duncans, Cowlehan, Comox, and lastly Alberni, Clayoquot and Ucluelet, from which places he has just returned.

"If the land were classed."

Octubet, from which places he has just returned.

"If the land were cleared," he said, "the settlers would at once go in. This is the great necessity of the island. Everywhere I found the price of eggs and poultry high, and in every instance also the different communities are unable to meet the demand. The inhabitants throughout the island are taking the greatest possible interest in the land clearing scheme whereby the provincial government might assist in the work. In talking to the residents at different points I discovered that they were equally willing that the clearing operations should be taken up by a private corporation which could establish donkey engines and stump pulling machines. The residents are anxious to assist to their utmost in the work, and the security for the corporation would be of a cast iron character. In every locality which I visited there was good agricultural land, which will be settled immediately it is cleared."

The coast line at Long Bay would, in Mr. McGaffey's opinion, form a site for one of the finest watering places in the world. There is a splendid stretch of white sand, running for miles, and extending seawards for half a mile when the tide is out. The coast line is protected by promontories of lock, and a town could be reared which would have natural advantages opossessed by few, if any, other seaside resorts on this continent. "If the land were cleared." he

Captain Wolley Purchases Livingstone Estate on Cowichan Bay

Captain Clive Phillips Wolley has purchased the Livingstone estate in the Cowichan Bay district.

The latter place is one of the finest country residences on Vancouver island, situated on Cowichan bay; the house, a roomy mansion, substantially built, is surrounded by about 10 acres of land. The Koksilah river flows through it and the best of sea and fresh water fishing is found right at hand.

The house was built by the late Clement Livingstone, the former manager of the Tyee mine. Captain Wolley will take up his residence there almost immediately.

APPLICATION OF

Indian Department Will Not Allow Corporation to Secure Rock From Reserve

With the city seriously contemplating the letting of a number of local improvement works by contract because of the impossibility of doing all works by day labor consequent on the lack of necessary plant and the difficulty of securing an adequate supply of crushed rock, its decision to adopt contract work will be further hastened by the fact that the Federal government has refused the city the right to secure its supply of rock from the indian reserve. The city, as a consequence, is again in the unenviable position it occupied when the municipality of South Saanich succeeded in blocking the corporation's attempt to locate its crusher at Mount Tolmie. Why the Dominion authorities should refuse to allow the city to go to the Indian reserve for its supply of rock is not stated, but the refusal was wired to A. V. Vowell yesterday, and until a written communication is received from the Indian department the city will remain in the dark.

NATURALISATION

Development League to Discuss Granting of Rights to Orientals

A resolution protesting against the naturalisation of Japanese, and thus admitting them to the rights of British citizens, passed by the Cumberland Development league, and fathered by R. Shaw, a merchant of the northern island town will engage the attention of the Vancouver Island Development league at an executive meeting to be held in the board of trade rooms tomorrow at 11 a. m.

The Cumberland league claims that Japanese are taking up dairying, poultry raising, farming, etc., in fact have every privilege, although unable to assimilate with the inhabitants, and they contend that this state of affairs should be stopped.

A number of resolutions passed, by the auxiliary leagues will come up for discussion at tomorrow's meeting. The Courteney branch has passed a resolution on the settlers act and the rights of coal mining. North Samich is anxious for the extension of the telephone system in their district and have passed a resolution to this effect. Sidney wants a station agent appointed at the depot of the V, and S, railroad. The question of the distribution of literature and the appointment of a competent man or woman to undertake this work at the Scattle exposition will also come up for consideration. Secretary McGaffey will report upon the progress of the work and what is being done at the various island centres which he has visited during the past six weeks.

Board of Trade Council Draws At-tention to Light Travel Here

Instructed by the council of the board of trade Secretary Elworthy has forwarded a letter to Captain J. W. Troup, superintendent of the C. P. R. Coast S.S. Service, drawing attention to the fact that the travel to Victoria has been light up to the present, although merchants have laid in large supplies to cater to the influx which was expected. This fact is attributed to the raising of the rates on the Seattle route, and it is contended that the price of $3.50, is too much.

Attention is also drawn to the fact that a rumor is current that the steamers Yosemite and Victorian, now lying idle at Seattle, may be placed on the ferry route, a dollar round fare being charged. The council of the board of trade is trying to induce the C. P. R. to consider the advisability of reducing the rates between here and Seattle during the present tourist season, and they point out that such a reduction would induce larger numbers to come over here for the races.

The regular business meeting of the W. C. T. U. takes place this afternoon at the King's Daughter's rooms at 3 o'clock. All delegates appointed to go to the convention in Valicouver are asked to be present, and a full attendance of members is requested.

The new prindipal of Harvard college, Dr. Lowell, is determined that if he can help it the freshmen shall not become too soon the associates of older men. He has arranged that a new quadrangle shall be laid out at Cambridge where all the freshmen shall room. The faculty will thus be enabled to keep a supervision over the lads both at work and at play. It is hoped to stop the formation of cliques and to prevent the sons of rich men from introducing into college life the habits of luxury so fatal to study. Whether the new president is successful or not the experiment is worth trying. Our colleges get the flower of the youth of the land and what can be done by college authorities to prevent untimely blight should be attempted.

There seems no limit to the folly and extravagance of the suffragettes. It is hard to believe that the women who take such plans of accomplishing their ends are really in earnest. If the franchise is to be a great benefit it should be greatly sought. The tricks of impudent silly school girls cannot induce statesmen to make what everyone must see is a grave constitutional change. There is something exasperating in the way in which the suffragettes are making the women of England the laughing stock of the world.

When the Empire is face to face with problems that require the utmost earnestness and wisdom for their solution the feeling that their women must weaken the hands of British statesmen.

It is no wonder that great men feel strongly on this subject. The Standard of Empire alludes to the opinion of two of them in the following paragraph. It is impossible not to feel sympathy with the speakers though one may not share their forebodings. The women who are bringing their sex into ridicule are but a small minority of the womanhood of England.

"What is likely to happen to the Earl of Gromer and Lord Curzon at the hands of the suffragists in the future one would not like to prophesy; they have certainly laid themselves open to the ladies' novel retaliatory methods by their candid expressions at a dinner given by the meu's league for opposing women's Suffrage. Lord Coromer spoke in heated terms of modern Delilahs and suffragist Philistines; while Lord Curzon said that at the head of the movement were a number of talented and intellectual women. At the other end of the scale were a number of female howling Dervishes. If he were a partyleader, and if nine-tenths of the women who were going to be enfranchised were to promise him their votes, he should say, "Get behind me,—"; he had better, perhaps not finish. On the day on which 20 millions of voters, male and female, were added to the register in this country on a system of adult suffrage, on that day he believed they might put up the shutters of the British Empire, and write the word Ichabod over the gates of the power of surgretion. These days of the power of surgretion.

the word Ichabod over the gutes of Whitehall."

We hear much in these days of the power of suggestion. There is a very large school of physicians who believe that it is possible to cure certain very serious illness by suggesting to the sick person the idea of perfect health. We all know the great influence of beautiful surroundings. The nature is low indeed that is not unlifted by a lovely scene or the sight of a beautiful picture. Women try to fill their homes not only with comforts but with all that suggests purity and goodness and the happiness of its inmates depends in no small degree upon her success.

But we are too apt to forget that if good suggestions are powerful evil ones are no less streng. We allow our signboards to be covered with pictures showing crime in its most horrid colors. To the nature mind their ugliness does not appeal but it is otherwise with children. They study every detail and the impression created does much harm. In the city of Washington a law has lately been passed forbidding posters which portray the commission of crime or the attempt to commit crime.

But, perhaps, the posters are not the chief or the most dangerous offenders. The color supplement where children than many people suppose.

What good purpose is served by the publication of accounts of crimes committed by people whom no one knows in distant places? Murders and sulcides and other horrors bring their suggestions of evil to men and women in moments of depression or despair and the result is seen in many tragedies.

moments of depression or despair the result is seen in many tragedies the result is seen in many tragedies.

Even more dangerous are the books which detail for the young the crimes of desperadoes. The "penny dreadfuls" have filled the prisons with boys whose immature minds cannot detect their unreality. In Wurtemburg, in Germany, a law has been passed making it a crime to sell books of this class.

While it is impossible to guard againt all that suggests evil, especially to young minds, much more might be done if parents were wise and watchful. The most effective way to prevent the influence of evil is to fill life so full of wholesome interests and innocent pleasures that no room will be left for studying what is low and debasing or brooding over what is dangerous.

A short time ago the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis was held in Washington. The reports read before the association were not all encouraging. Instead of decreasing since the last meeting there are more cases this year than last, and it is said that more than one hundred and fifty thousand persons fall victims to tuberculosis every year in the United States alone. About one in ten of these patients receive hospital treatment. These figures have shown the members of the association and will show the world that the work of banishing tuberculosis is a far harder task than was hoped. is a far harder task than was hoped.

Yet it remains true that tuberculosis can be prevented and that the means of prevention are fresh air and sunshine. There is the danger of infection, but that too can be escaped. It is possible

Here and There

There are few parents who send their sons to college without miscarefully guarded by parents and watched over by teachers linds himself all at once in a position of independence, with none of the restraining influences of home and with many temptations to which he has up to the present been a stranger. If he is studious and if his principles are strong he comes safely through the ordeal. But the influence of older men whom he recognizes as abler than himself very often leads him into forbidden paths before he recognizes their danger.

The new principles all the families of the earth pure air and sunshine, wholesome food and pure water? It is this, as well as the treatment and cure of sick people that will accomplish the banishment of tuberculosis. It must seem the millennium will have come when such conditions obtain.

There are now in Victoria but few families who do not enjoy light and air in abundant measure. Our water, if limited in quantity, is pure, and hunger is almost unknown. The report of the debate on "Church Union" in the general assembly as presented in yesterday's telegrams, is not edifying reading. There is, however, no doubt that there were many wise and great utterances on this subject. The vision of a united church is one which good men of all denominations and great utterances on this subject. The vision of a united church is one which good men of all denominations have hoped for ever since Christianity began. There is enough of evil in the world of our day to call for the exercise of all the wisdom and all the power which a union of all the forces for good can exercise. Whether the breaking down of the barriers of denominationalism will strengthen the church remains to be seen.

A very real effort is being made by the streets free of dust. The task is the street free of dust. The task is not an easy one, and citizens are thankful for a moderate degree of success. Much more than is being attempted might be done by the vendors of food to protect it from the dust. If housekeepers were to insist that fruit and meats as well as other eatables were kept free of dust, the storekeepers would soon comply with their wishes.

The Montreal Witness has the following to say about dust which is as great a nuisance in that city as it is in our own:

There are two kinds of dust, the town dust and the country dust, which are in their nature and composition essentially different. The former contains but little earth or mineral matter, while the latter consists almost wholly of particles of the material from which the road is made. The city dust more vitally affects the people. Analysis of the dust of large cities shows that desicated animal matter largely predominates in it. This matter may be alliew with germs, including those of common diseases such as typhoid and tuberculosis. Many beautifully dressed laddes, who are fond of allowing their gowns to sweep the pavement, would be shocked if they but knew all about the fragments that cling to the hems of their expensive garments. It is largely due to the dust that in a dry spring or summer medical practitioners are frequently called upon to attend, cases of apparently poisoned eyes, throats and mucous membranes, for the spicules in this city dust are pointed and sharp and when they adhere to any wet surface such as the edge of the eyelid, or are inhaled through the nostril, they are apt to gause minute lacerations and to deposit poison as well. The motor car does not create any dust of this kind, but does scatter it abroad somewhat more lavishly than the ordinary carriage. Continuous watering of the streets and washing of the pavenents are the only remedies. The process is expensive, and where there is asphalt paving it may be dangerous to horse, The superseding of the horse, noble animal as he undoubtedly is, by the motor car, may possibly in time give us dustless.

CALLA AND COLONEL BRONSTON GO DOWN

Remainder of Card Interests Big Crowd of Spectators at Willows Course

By J. B. Woodside.

By J. B. Woodside.

The sports who think that racing is a pastime for invalids got the illustration of a life time that they were in the wrong church during yesterday's programme at the Willows, when Calla and Colonel Bronston dumped their riders into the cabbage patch in the second event.

Fortunately neither of the boys were hurt, and McIntyre and Lycurgus were able to walk back to the judges' stand talking genuine Irish phrases; but it looked bad for a minute. Incidentally, the accident spolled the chances of the public's choice, Calla, for winning her race and possibly stopped a track record, as the fast mare got off right and had the look of a victor in her eyes.

The mishan was one of the most performance of the mishan was one of the most performance.

and had the look of a victor in her eyes.

The mishap was one of the most peculiar that has been seen on a race track in many years. Starter Weber sent the field off to a beautiful beginning, and the holders of Calla tickets were already picking out comfortable spots to stand on the right side of the books when the favorite stubbed her toe and went down in a heap. Her rider, Jockey McIntyre, turned a flip flop over the fence that would have done justice to the human jumping jack in Barnum's circus. This little irregularity caused the downfall of Colonel Bronston which was coming along on Calla's heels, and Lycurgus was deposited in the self same place made warm by McIntyre. Ed. Davis then proceeded to run wild, and, to make a long story short, the race was coppered by Mechant, a despised, write your own ticket participant.

Delay at Stand.

When it was all over, there was coppered by Mechant, a despised, write your own ticket participant.

Delay at Stand.

When it was all over, there was quite a delay at the judges' stand over the protests dug out of the oats by Meintyre and Lycurgus, but the occupants of the pagoda decided that nothing could have prevented the accident, and gave the purse to Mechant.

With this exception the card was run off without sensation, and every one of the fifteen hundred spectators applauded it from start to finish.

In the first, the good two-year-old, J. H. Barr, annexed the honors of the race, and handily defeated Quality Street, the Durker entry, and Cinnamon. The latter almost sprung a surprise, as far as the stretch, and ran a smart race in spite of the obligation to stay in the last hole.

The third proved the class of Metakatla, the game mare from the Durker stables, when she out-generalled Nellie Racine after being cut off when it seemed too late to get in at the finish. Dandy Fine took what was left but started barking towards the end.

Barney Oldfield came true in the fourth and started the favorites and near favorites on their merry way to glory after the day's disasters. The big black amply demonstrated that he is here with his usual supply of bells, and can be depended upon in the future. Roalta and Belle of Iroquois finished in the order named.

Mattie Mack was the first genuine through per schedule, and she ran her race from post to wire. Dave Weber and the medium of many a killing, General Haley, split the other two positions between them.

The sixth went to the sometimes consistent and sometimes raving crazy Emma G. as a well-backed best seler, Redwood II, and Maud McG. came next.

Another good race rider came to light the other day when Reed Brooks piloted the well-backed Santee into second position. The ones who have watched this boy at work have predicted a brilliant future for him, and has already begun to show signs watched this boy at work have predicted a brilliant future for him, and has already begun to show signs of being on to his job. The horsemen and has already begun to show signs of being on to his job. The horsemen should be had a chance. Brooks hails from Texas, and comes of a family of jockeys. He is in the employ of Lonnie Sears, and will be among the select riders of the meeting life his present form keeps up.

Paladini was badly cut down in the third yesterday, and it looked for a time as if the good horse would have to be destroyed. Doctor Richards thought different, and his owner made the physician a present of Paladini.

It is beginning to look like only a duel will settle the romance in which Jockeys King, Archibald, and Brooks are figuring with a fair little maiden in the grandstand. These boys have been bidding for her affections since the Los Angeles meeting, and are riding their heads off to win. King seems to have a shade the best of it so far, as he has been first past the wire the most times here, and the young lady likes a winner as well as anyone.

There is one kid at the track who is always working. Roy Dillon is his name, and he handles the programmes at the car landing. He sings the song that "you can't tell them apart without a programme." Remember him.

G. W. Patterson, the official photographer at the track, has sprung an entirely new line of snapshots. They give you an interesting peep at every outdoor phase of the Willows, and-will be valuable as souvenirs when the ponies have departed.

A meeting of the directors of the Country Club was held last night, during which that glaring question of transportation was discussed. Even the street car company has begun to slip a cog, and this state of affairs will be improved if possible. It took thirty-five minutes to make the fifteen minutes' journey from the Willows yesterday, and there was no evident excuse.

Manager Leighton announces that the meeting is becoming more of a success daily, and that the local parronage has far exceeded his fondesthopes. When the proper arrangements have been made to get the Scattle people here for a reasonable rate there will be nothing lacking to make the meeting compare favorably with any of the smaller sessions in the world.

TODAY'S CARD IS NICELY BALANCED

Ones to Go This Afternoon Will Millionaire Pugilist Game While Make Best of Entertainment for Visitors

(By J. B. Woodside.)

I bumped the bumps on the first three yesterday, gentlemen, but I caught the remainder of the card, including the best bet, Barney Oldfield, at the cozy price of two to one, and a pair of others that were worth as much as even more.

at the cozy price of two to one, and a pair of others that were worth as much as even money.

Now, if you insist I will post a forfeit with the sporting editor, say I was out of condition and ask for a return match—but listen to this:

Do you recall the fact that in the first I missed I gave them to you with reverse English, that is to say, three, one, two, instead of one, two, three? In the second my selection lost his rider, together with the odds on favorite, and in the third your humble servant's choice was so badly cut down that his owner gave him away to the track physician. These are not allbis; mere facts. I am still confident that if the two accidents had not occurred I would have had five birds in the judge's favor.

Excuse me a minute for talking

Inish the evidence is still open.

Card Evenly Balanced.

But to abstain from the "bull" and to get down to what is in store for this afternoon. Today's card is an evenly balanced one and I may look like a large sample of limburger when it is all over, but I only ask you to take a chance with me.

The first for three-year-olds and upwards, at four and one-half furlongs, calls attention to Jim Mallady. On the strength of his good race Tuesday when he gave Illusion all she wanted in the hot foot line, he appears to be a lead pipe cinch. All he will have to do is show the form he has already displayed. If Philistina runs up to her work she will be the next to parade past the judges. The rest are all alike but I think the third horse will show up in Auburndale.

The second race is a split of the first and it looks like Tom Martin will cop the money with Senator Warner If that noble steed can only be kept away from his goat chum until they are called out. Sir Angus may stay in and if he does he is certainly a contender. Angelface is the only one of the rest which is entitled to the peep place.

The third is also a four and one-half furlong event and there is enough speed in this to set the track aftre. If Zelina only does as well here as last time out she will surely win. Escalante has been given to me as a certain bidder for the next best and Traffic will bring up the tail end if true to form.

Speed in Fourth.

Frank Baylis, the crack J. B. A. A. runner is doing his share of winning these days. He gathered in the five mile at Duncan on Saturday, and is entered in the 10-mile on June 19th, and the 5-mile at the Y. M. C. A. sports on June 26th.

W. H. Wilkerson, the local jeweller, has offered a handsome gold locket to the J. B. A. A. for the oarsman scoring the largest number of points during this summer's regattas.

Saturday afternoons, should take advantage of this game.

The soccer game here between Ladysmith and Nanalmo will put an end to the long drawn out battle bend to the long drawn out battle between the two island teams.

Many of the husky boys around town, who have been out of athletics for some time, will have a good chance of using their strength in the shot put and weight throwing at the Y. M. C. A. meet on June 26th.

The fight was stopped in the second minute of the third round after O'Brien had been knocked down twice in the second and once in the third and was almost unable to raise his hands to defend himself. The fight was a whirlwind affair from the start to the finish. Ketchel went after O'Brien from the tap of the gong and showed that he was determined to catch him and register a knockout.

Excuse me a minute for talking about ancient history, but there was a wise guy loped into the office last might with a search warrant for the ten dollars reward I offered upon the cocasion of the six straight dealt out Tuesday. He was wild to clutch the coin, but he went away without it. He didn't have the show me stuff in his pocket. He said he was a personal friend of all kinds of people who had beaten my record but he couldn't furnish the evidence that goes with a jury. The offer is still open.

O'Brien's condition and wisning to avoid a possible serious termination, stopped the fight.

Ketchel's Victory Popular.

Ketchel was cheerd wildly, and he was quick to comment on his showing as compared with Johnson's in his fight with O'Brien, to the disadvantage of the black champion. Ketchel said after the fight: "I was confident that I could get O'Brien in less than six rounds. I am satisfied with my showing tonight." O'Brien felt his defeat keenly but was quick to give Ketchel full credit for his quick victory.

Both fighters were in fine condition. There was very little betting on the outcome. Even money prevailed before the fight at which odds a few wagers were made that O'Brien would stay the six rounds. It was announced that the men' weighed in at noon below 160 pounds, the agreement calling for that figure or below. The announcement was also made that Jin Jeffries would appear at the National club next Wednesday night in a friendly bout with Sam Berger, in order that Philadelphians might be able to judge the progress the big Californian has made in his preliminary training for a possible fight with champion Johnson. There was little time lost in getting Ketchel and O'Brien ready, when once they were in the ring.

Fight By Rounds.

A tug was chartered and the liner was followed down stream, where the team eventually boarded the Araguaya.

LOGICAL ECZEMA CURE ENDORSED BY PHYSICIANS

After treating eczema for years as a practically incurable blood disease, the medical world is greatly interested in the discovery that it is not a blood disease at all, but is due to a parasite in the skin itself. This parasite is easly destroyed by the external application of a compound of oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc. This will quickly kill all eczema germs, while soothing and refreshing the skin.

quickly kill all eczema germs, while soothing and refreshing the skin.

Mrs. Henry Harvey of Black Lake, Que., tells how she was cured after 10 years of suffering.

"I had been a sufferer from fatal eczema for about 10 years. I was treated unavailingly by several doctors and remedles. About two years ago I saw D. D. D. advertised. I at once decided to give it a trial and sent for a sample bottle, which cured me in a couple of weeks and I have not had it since. D. D. has been a god-send to me as well as many others."

No matter how terribly you suffer from eczema, sait rheum, ringworm, etc., you will feel instantly soothed and the itch allayed at once, when a few drops of this oil of wintergreen compound is applied. The cures all seem to be permanent.

Deny Story.

Montreal, June 9 —C. M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk Pacific is at present in the west, but other high officials at headquarters deny the Winnipeg Tribune story of a quarrel with the Dominion government over the cost of the national transcontinental railway between Winnipeg and Winnipeg Junction The official statement made is that while it is true that Messrs, Collingwood Schreiber, Lumsden and Kelliher have just completed an inspection of the track between those points, that was done with a view to opening the line for traffic in about two months, and had nothing whatever to do with the cost of building.

gineer Hodgins who resigned rather than stand for the work on the Lake Superior section did not tell half the truth. The G.T.P. built from the Junction to Fort William and they know what the legitimate expense involved really is or should be. The G. T. P. wants to take the road over at once but will not pay interest on this inflated amount. Schreiber, Lumsden and others are here trying to straighten out the tangle and it is said Pugsley will arrive soon to help fix up the business. It looks very much as if the G. T. P. management will split with the government over this feature.

The commissioners expect that everything will be satisfactory before the Grand Trunk Pacific is ready to take over the government section of the line.

KNOCKED BY POETS

Oakland, Cal., June 5.—That the average college graduate is useless and will find the farm better suited to his capabilities than the city was the opinion expressed by Joaquin Miller in an address before the graduating class of California College, in this city.

"Make the college graduate work with his hands as well as with his brain," the poet of the Sierras said.

"I've seen so many worthless college men that I'm not greatly disposed to congratulate one who has done nothing but graduate.

"The prisons are filled with idlers. The last time I visited the Pennsylvania penitentiary I found twenty-eight lawyers, forty-five doctors and many bankers and merchants. These men were college graduates. It is noticeable that I saw no farmers."

In closing the speaker attacked college football, characterizing it as a waste of time and strength.

With the refusal of the local authorities to permit a lecture to be delivered in a public hall, Miss Goldman was compelled to speak in the barn of Joel Freeman. The lecture was very moderate in tone and no effort was made by the police to prevent or cut short its delivery. Alexander Berkman was present but did not speak.

GOODS ARE FOUND ON BRIGHAM NOW

New Haven, Conn., June 9.-A safe deposit box rented in the name of of the Merchant's National Bank, who is alleged to have abstracted a number of thousands of dollars from the bank funds, has been opened and found to be full of envelopes containing stock certificates. Thoroughly estimated, the certificates represent about 115,000 shares in gold, silver and copper mines, very few of which are listed on stock exchanges. There also are many deeds of real estate situated in distant states and shares in development concerns. The face value of this large amount of stock and securities would reach a very large sum but the actual value cannot be dixed until appraisal is put upon of the Merchant's National Bank, who be fixed until appraisal is put each certificate.

MANY STEAMERS COME TO THE PACIFIC

Tramps Being Attracted to Nearby
Ports and Drop in Grain Freights
Is Expected

The feature of last week's charter market was the fixing of three tramp steamers to load wheat from Puget sound or Portland for the United Kingdom at 30s. This rate is practically equal to the union freight of 27s 6d, on which basis practically equal to the union freight of 27s 6d, on which basis practically all the sailing ships chartered for the new season were engaged.

It is not likely that there will be much business done in grain tonnage for some time, as a large fleet of steamers is headed to this coast, and exporters, as a result are looking for better rates. The government is largely to blame for this condition, as it has chartered 12 tramp steamers to bring coal from the Atlantic to Mare Island and Puget Sound navy yards. In addition to these tramps there are eight others chartered to freight general cargo to the Pacific and it is understood that inquiries are being made for others.

A few of these vessels will undoubtedly be taken for lumber and one or two may find time charters. However, a majority will seek return cargoes of grain. Should the 20 tramps be fixed for wheat, they would take from this coast during the early wheat season, and the fact that they are en route here is already having a weakening affect upon grain chartering.

Exporters already have engaged nearly 40 vessels for new season's grain. With the exception of three, all of these ships are sailers and none has been fixed at lower than union rates. At the present time charterers feel that they have sufficient tonnage to do business at the beginning of the export season and with so much steam tonnage headed for this coast. It is more than likely that they will await a drop in rates that may be expected unless the crop is usually large. Advices from the wheat sections are favorable and there is every indication that the crop will be much greater than last year. To this encouraging sign may be attributed the large amount of tonnage chartered so far in advance of the new crop season.

The steamers fixed for wheat from Puget sound or Portland are: Taunton, British, now in trifl appraisal is put upon tate.

Run Down by Oceania Vance During Thick Fog Near the Race Rocks

FOUNDERED IN VERY DEEP WATER

Was Towing Rock-laden Hulk Chargeur Which Remained Moored to the Wreck

Run down by the schooner Oceania Vance during thick fog five miles east of Race rocks yesterday morning about 7:45 o'clock, the well-known tug Sea Lion, of the Puget Sound tugboat company, lies fathoms deep, a total loss. Captain Lovejoy and her crew escaped from the sinking tugboat and were landed at Port Angeles. The Oceania Vance was inbound from San Pedro, returning to Port Ludlow to load lumber, and was sailing up the straits when she collided with the Sea Lion, bound out with the hulk Chargeur, laden with rock for the jetty being built by the United States government at Grays Harbor. The Chargeur is anchored by her hawser to the wreck of the Sea Lion in the straits, and a tugboat has been sent to pick and a tugboat has been sent to pick and a tugboat has been sent to pick her up.

The tugs Tyee and Pioneer, both of which are equipped with wireless telegraphic apparatus, went out to see if any salvage was possible. The lost Sea Lion was one of the tugs not equipped with wireless. The British Columbia salvage company's wrecking steamer Salvor is in communication by wireless with the owners in Scattle and in accordance with their request lies in readiness to respond to a call for assistance.

A special to the P.-I. from Port Townsend says: The schooner Oceania Vance salled into port at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, bringing the entire crew of the tug Sea Lion, which had been run down by the Vance at 6:40 this morning, during a dense fog, about four miles east of Race Rocks.

The Vance sailed from San Pedrotypty-two days ago and encountered light winds until she entered the straifs. Fog was encountered at the entrance to the straits and Neah bay was passed at 1 o'clock this morning with a fresh westerly wind. The only land sighted was at the light at Clallam bay. After picking up the fog signal on Race Rocks, Captain F. G. Scott, of the Vance, shaped his course for Point Wilson, and was making about eight knots when the Sea Lion loomed up under his port bow. The crew of the tug all boarded the Vance by the head gear. The last to board the vessel were Captain Lovejoy and Second Engineer Carl Lewis. Lewis remained at his station to answer any orders from the pilothouse after the collision and narrowly escaped. He tumped for the head gear of the schooner as she cleared the tug.

The Oceania Vance is unchartered and will tie up at Port Townsend, The stem and forefoot of the schooner are damaged and she will have to be repaired before loading.

The Sea Lion was brought from San Francisco to enter the Puget Sound tugboat feet in 1888, and was considered the best of the fleet, her coming having been a disturbing factor in the tugboat business of the Sound. The tugboat duplone for the head gear of the seas fact and howerful, and when she entered the trade

Although the incoming steamer Ceylon Maru, which has been sent here by the Nippon Yusen Kaisha in place of the Iyo Maru taken for the European run, is not equipped with wireless telegraphic apparatus she has been enabled to report by wireless. The steamer Aki Maru, of the same company's fleet, which left port on Tucsday night outward bound to Yokohama, reported at moon yesterday that she was 150 miles out from Cape Flattery, and has passed the steamer Ceylon Maru inbound. The Ceylon Maru had signalled that she would reach William Head quarantine station at 5 a. m. today. The Ceylon Maru is a freighter formerly engaged in the Yokohama-Bombay trade, and was last here two years ago, being then in command of Capt. Pyne, who is believed to be in the vessel still.

Sixty days after being established a

Sixty days after being established a notice to mariners from the marine department of the Dominlon government came to hand yesterday, stating that the United States government had now a lightship on Swiftsure bank. The system of laving these Pacific coast notices printed at Ottawa is responsible for the delay.

Notice is given that, "During the summer of 1909 the steam whistle at Race Rocks light station, Juan de Pucas Strait, will be replaced by a diaphone, operated with air, compressed by an oil engine. The diaphone will, during thick or forgy weather, give one blast of 3 seconds' duration every minute. While work is going on it may become necessary temporarily to discontinue the fog alarm. In this case the local pilots and wireless stations will be advised so that foreign vessels may be warned.

A new octagonal wooden lighthouse tower is under construction on the summit of the northern Lawyer Island. Chatham Sound, immediately north of the old lighthouse, The light will be shown from the new lighthouse tower during the present season. During the removal of the lantern from the old to the new tower it may be necessary to exhibit a small temporary light. If so, pilots and coasting captains will be warned if possible.

The details given regarding the Swiftsure Bank lightship have been published many weeks ago.
